Curriculum Vitae JEROME G. ROZEN, JR.

ADDRESSES

Office: Division of Invertebrate Zoology, American Museum of Natural History, Central Park West at 79th St.,
New York, NY 10024-5192, USA. (212) 769-5466. Email: <rozen@amnh.org>
Home: 55 Haring Street, Closter, NJ 07624, USA. (201) 768-9590

EDUCATION

University of Pennsylvania, 1946-1948
University of Kansas, 1948-1951; B.A., 1950
University of California (Berkeley), 1951-1955; Ph.D., 1955

POSITIONS

U. S. Department of Agriculture, Entomologist (Taxonomy) at the Smithsonian Institution, 1956-1958
Ohio State University, Assistant Professor, 1958-1960
American Museum of Natural History, Chairman, Department of Entomology, and Associate Curator, 1960-1965;
Chairman, Department of Entomology, and Curator, 1965-1971; Deputy Director for Research and Curator, 1972-1986; Curator 1965-present
City University of New York, Adjunct Professor, 1971-present
Collaborator, Carl Hayden Bee Research Center, USDA--ARS, Tucson, Arizona, 1987-1996
Museum Associate, KU Natural History Museum and Biodiversity Research Center, 2004 to present

POST-PH.D. TEACHING ACHIEVEMENTS

Established Systematic Discussion Group at the Smithsonian Institution, 1957.
Taught courses on Principles of Systematics and on Immature Insect at Ohio State University, 1958-60.
Introduced students to entomological research under the Undergraduate Research Program (UGRP) and Research Experience for Undergraduates Program (REU), both sponsored by the National Science Foundation, 1962 to 1998, 2004.
Participated in, and helped to establish, the Programa Cooperativo sobre la Apifauna Mexicana (PCAM), sponsored by the Smithsonian Institution and Universidad Nacional Autonoma de Mexico, and later by the National Science Foundation, 1987-1993.
Organized and obtained outside funding for the Bee Course, a series of annual workshops to train conservation and pollination biologists and other biologist worldwide on bee systematics and biology, starting September 1999 at the Southwestern Research Station of the American Museum of Natural History.

SOCIETAL AFFILIATIONS, OFFICES, AND COMMITTEES

American Association for the Advancement of Science (Fellow, 1960)
Society of Systematic Biology (Chairman, Membership Committee, 1960; Program Officer, 1963-1965)
Society for the Study of Evolution
Organization of Biological Field Stations (member, workshop on the needs of Biological Field Stations, 1984)(Vice-President, 1988-89; President, 1990)
American Institute of Biological Science (Council Member)
Entomological Society of Washington (Program Chairman, 1958-1960; member, Executive Committee, 1959-1960)
New York Entomological Society (Trustee, 1961-1962, 1966; Vice-President, 1963; President, 1964-1965)
Entomological Society of America (Editor, Miscellaneous Publications, 1959-1960; member, Committee on Entomological Nomenclature, 1962; Chairman, same, 1963-1965; Secretary, Subsection On Apiculture, 1965; Vice-Chairman, same, 1966)
Pacific Coast Entomological Society
Kansas Entomological Society
International Society of Hymenopterists
