A. RESEARCH ACTIVITIES AND INTERESTS

Chuck BELLAMY has found a publisher of academic books in The Netherlands who has agreed to consider publishing a book or series of volumes on The Biosystematics of Buprestoidea. All who would be interested in contributing to this first volume should please contact him with possible titles, subjects, approx. number of pages, etc. All contributors will receive a copy of the entire work and reprints of their own articles. All papers must be in English, but we will help with that, of course. Subjects should be much more than just straight taxonomy and he encourages anyone who reads this newsletter to consider topics including ecology, biogeography, faunistics, morphology, physiology, etc. He has enquired about the possibility of publishing colour plates or photographs and hopes that this will be accepted so that we can all produce a very beautiful work on these beautiful beetles.

The world catalogue is progressing nicely and Chuck is grateful to those who have already offered so much help, including Rick WESTCOTT, Mark VOLKOVITSH, and Svata BILÝ. The bibliography continues to grow but already has about 3 000 entries.

Magnus PETERSON wrote that he has been very busy photographing Australian Buprestidae and that he has done much field work. He collected a number of new species of Western Australian Buprestidae, as well as making a number of interesting observations on the ecology of some taxonomically better known Western Australian species. These will be published eventually. He has prepared a number of papers on the ecology and taxonomy of Australian Buprestidae and these will be published over the next year. He has also been working on Curculionidae and Reptilia, and has a number of papers on these recently published. His revision of Temognatha continues, as well as a number of revisions of other Australian buprestid genera.
