<https://doi.org/10.5852/ejt.2021.778.1569>The present corrigendum corrects errors that occurred in Gómez et al. (2021).Junior homonym

The genus Dinetia Gómez, Corgosinho & Rivera-Sánchez, 2021 was proposed to accommodate Dinetia minuta (Dinet, 1971), previously included within Bulbamphiascus by Dinet (1971). We inadvertently overlooked that the genus name was preoccupied by Dinetia Decraemer & Gourbault, 1997, proposed to accommodate the draconematid nematod Dinetia nycterobia Decraemer & Gourbault, 1997 (Decraemer & Gourbault 1997). Following the principle of homonymy (ICZN 1999; art. 52.2), only the senior homonym may be used as a valid name. Therefore, in adherence to art. 60.3 (ICZN 1999), Dinetocaris nom. nov. (gender: feminine), alluding to Alain Dinet (for his contribution to the taxonomy of harpacticoid copepods) followed by the suffix ‘caris’ (meaning ‘shrimp’), is proposed as the replacement name for Dinetia Gómez, Corgosinho & Rivera-Sánchez, 2021. The genus Dinetocaris nom. nov. includes Dinetocaris minuta (Dinet, 1971) comb. nov. as its type and only valid species, and it has been registered in Zoobank (urn:lsid:zoobank.org:act:59E0ED74-C8D3-43BB-AA0C-4775840820A9).

The case of Dineticola gen. nov.

The name Dineticola gen. nov. appears in Table 4 (pages 10 and 11) and on Fig. 19 (page 40) in Gómez et al. (2021). Dineticola gen. nov. was a slip of the pen and, therefore, it is a nomen nudum; it is unavailable because it was not accompanied by a description or a bibliographic reference, failing to conform to art. 13 (ICZN 1999). The genus name Dineticola gen. nov. should be changed to Dinetocaris gen. nov.
