THE ENTOMOLOGICAL WRITINGS OF THADDEUS WILLIAM HARRIS,

EDITED BY WILLIAM SHARSWOOD.

One vol. 8vo. 450 pp. Illustrated with Portrait, Plates, and Wood-cuts. Cloth, $ 3.00.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT & CO., Philadelphia, Publishers.
London: TRÜBNER & CO.

The publication of this work has been suggested by a motive for rendering accessible to the student the scattered writings of the author.

It will conform, in typographical appearance, with his „Treatise on the Insects of New England Injurious to Vegetation,“ which is being reprinted, with the addition of plates, under the auspices of the Legislature of Massachusetts, and will afford to those in possession of that volume, the opportunity of obtaining his complete writings, on this subject, in a uniform style.

There will be affixed to the volume a full index to all the generic and specific descriptions of Dr. Harris, as well as to the synonyms used in his writings, with a full reference to the works containing them.

In conclusion, it is hoped that the projection may be aided by all persons desirous of securing the publication, in a collected and emended form, of this mass of original observations, of an eminently practical and scientific character.

Subscribers are requested to forward their names to the publishers as promptly as may be convenient.

Or to

Friedrich Fleischer, Leipzig.
