THE Malacological Review,

AN INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL.

EDITED BY

WALTER E. COLLINGE, F.Z.S.,

MASON COLLEGE, BIRMINGHAM, ENGLAND.

The above Paper is not in any sense intended as a rival to any of the existing Malacological Journals. Its aim is to provide a means of communication and publication for those Malacologists specially interested in the Slugs and Slug-like genera.

It will endeavour, in so far as possible, to reproduce the original descriptions of all new genera, species, &c., to review all publications, and give a Bibliography of such literature as relates to the above mentioned forms.

From time to time revisions of the „Check-List of Slugs,” or parts thereof, will be given.

In brief, the Paper will endeavour to epitomise all that is of interest to those Malacologists interested in those families of the Mollusca known as Slugs.

During the first year four parts will be issued.

A number of European Malacologists have already promised their support, and believing that the value and usefulness of the publication will commend itself to all Students of the Slugs and allied genera, the Editor invites your co-operation and support.
