Dear Colleague,

You are cordially invited to participate in the 6th INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM ON TRICHOPTERA, which will be held between Monday morning, 11 September and Saturday afternoon, 16 September, 1989, partly at the University of Łódź in Łódź and partly at the town of Zakopane.

From 11 to 13 September oral communication and poster sessions will take place at the University of Łódź. In the morning of 14 September we plan a whole-day coach trip to Zakopane. In the course of the trip we will visit interesting sites and stay for lunch in Kraków (Cracow). In the evening we will arrive at the Kasprowy Hotel at Zakopane, where further sessions will take place on 15 and 16 September. During the stay at Zakopane we suggest participating in a half-day trip for sight-seeing and collecting materials.

A special program is also planned for accompanying persons. It includes visiting a European bison preserve at Spała, Frederic Chopin's birth place at Żelazowa Wola and some parts of the Tatra Mountains National Park, for example.

Łódź is located in the very centre of Poland, 150 km south-west of Warsaw. It is the second largest city in Poland.

Zakopane is situated at the altitude of 900—1300 m a.s.l., in the south of Poland. Lying at the foot of the Tatra Mountains it is one of the most attractive tourist resorts of Central Europe.

In September temperatures usually range in Łódź and in Zakopane between 10°C and 20°C.

The papers presented at the Symposium are to be published after its conclusion.

Organizing the Symposium only at Zakopane or some other place in the south of Poland has turned out to be impossible. Also, the term of the Symposium has been adjusted to the period in which there was possibility of getting accommodated at Zakopane.

We will do our best to make your stay in Poland and participation in the Symposium a pleasant experience, one of which you will get impressions long to be remembered.

See you soon in Poland

Sincerely yours

Cezary Tomaszewski

TRANSPORTATION

You should have no problem in arriving at Łódź. The closest international airport is Warszawa (Warsaw). A list of plane connections of various cities with Warsaw is given below. On the day preceding the beginning of the Symposium (Sunday), coaches will be waiting at the OKĘCIE International Warsaw Airport to take you to Łódź. If you prefer train travel you will have to go to the WARSAW CENTRAL STATION (Warszawa Centralna) by bus or taxi and take a train to Łódź. There are departures every three hours between 6 a.m. and 21 p.m. A direct train to Łódź takes about two hours. - It is also possible to reach Łódź by train from abroad, either through Warsaw or directly from the following cities: Bonn, Frankfurt, Leipzig, Paris, Prague, Vienna. A detailed international train timetable will be sent to you later on because of its frequent modifications. If you choose plane arrival at Łódź we will be waiting for you at the airport.

In case of any doubt concerning the travel to Łódź please do not hesitate to contact us by letter or phone.
