

EDITORS' NOTE

PERLA is designed to be the plecopterologist's newsletter. It isn't a journal and shouldn't be regarded as such. It is an organ by which communication between those interested in Plecoptera can be improved.

This first issue is patterned after the very successful ephemeropterist's newsletter, Eatonia. Suggestions and comments about format and content are welcomed. This is your newsletter so let us hear what you think of it.

Send all comments and correspondence to either of the co-editors. Requests for placement on the mailing list should be directed to the Washington, D.C. address.
